

UNGGIM: Americas PSN & CARIGEO Initiative

Valrie Grant

PSN: Some Guiding Principles

- Engage and represent the entire spectrum of geospatial and associated companies;
- Represent a spirit of interdependence and reliance of public private partnership and shall encourage collaboration;
- Be an interface between geospatial information agencies and end user communities and evolve a knowledge pool offering case studies, practical evidences, and best practices. It shall develop and demonstrate the value of geospatial information to non-conventional user communities; and
- Engage and collaborate with UN-GGIM regional groups and contribute through its participation in committees at the global and regional levels.

PSN Role in CARIGEO Initiative

- Contribute the Private sector perspective, expertise and other resource to the initiative;
- Be at the forefront of research and development
- Build effective models to drive Growth in the Caribbean geospatial industry;
- Undertake activities that foster collaboration amongst private sector and key stakeholders;
- Work closely with the academic network Americas to provide industry inputs necessary for the right Human resource development;
- Maximise the potential to expand access to geospatial technologies
